Understanding the difference between Seminary and Personal Studies.

Educational institution .A school, especially a theological school for the training of priests, ministers, or rabbis. A school of higher education, seminary or theological college is a specialized higher education institution for the purpose of instructing students (seminarians) in philosophy, theology, spirituality and the religious life, usually in order to prepare them to become members of the clergy. The English word is taken from the Latin seminarium, translated as seed-bed. In the Occident, the term historically refers to Christian educational institutes for clergy (mostly Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholic, as many Protestant denominations preferred another term for their theological colleges), but in modern usage has also come to be used to refer to Christian, Muslim, Jewish and other religious centres of higher education for religious professionals and laity.

Personal Studies where a person works at their own pace through a series of Bible studies, character qualities, scripture memorization, and much more. Sermon preparation,, Bible classes, Self-study and correspondence courses, Online interactive learning, online Bible studies, Research, Selected Readings, seminars and certificate programs for professional and personal development.

T39 Ministry Hours Notes:

The ministry of Jesus Christ is an outreach ministry. Each of the four Gospels ends with a commission from Christ to His church to carry the Gospel message to the ends of the earth. To minister to those outside of the church, to reach out to the unreached people of the world with the Gospel of Jesus Christ, we are not only teaching the love of God but also showing the love of God.

On the Clergy report, there are two areas to allow explanation of ministry.
